Wedding Organist

St Mary's Resident Organist is Alan John Phillips and he will play for your wedding, unless other arrangements are made through him (see next page).

Choosing your music

To help you choose music for your wedding, please visit Alan's website at <https://alanjohnphillips.weebly.com/weddings.html>, where you will find lots of hymns and organ music for you to browse, watch and listen to at your leisure, to help you make your mind up. All of his suggested organ music has been recorded by him personally at Dalmahoy and elsewhere. This webpage also contains useful information about liturgy and the law.

Please submit your musical choice using the online form at the foot of the wedding page on Alan's website at least 6 weeks before your wedding date.

As an optional follow-up to your online choice, you may also wish to have a personal discussion with Alan regarding the music for your ceremony. The best place and time for such a meeting is at St Mary's on a Sunday following the 10.30 am Sung Eucharist service, during which you can judge how the organ sounds with a full congregation, and get a feel for the building. If you think that a discussion is necessary, contact Alan at organist@stmarysdalmahoy.org.uk to make an appointment.

Resident Organist's fee

The total Resident Organist's wedding fee at St Mary's from 1st December 2019 is £173, which is automatically included in the fee you pay to the church.

This fee includes both the basic fee of £110 and a supplementary charge of £63 to cover performers' rights in regard to any recordings, both professional and casual, made during your ceremony. Please note that, in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988, permission to make any video or audio recordings of your ceremony must be obtained from the minister/priest officiating at your wedding, together with the organist and any other musicians performing. However, permission is very rarely denied!

Bringing Your Own Organist

Very occasionally, couples request that a friend or relative be allowed to play the organ for their wedding. If you wish to request arrangements for your own organist, and are satisfied regarding their competence, please indicate this on your initial Application Form.

As a matter of contract law, our Resident Organist, as part of his right to play the organ at all weddings at St Mary's, is also entitled to receive the church's basic wedding fee of £110 if he permits someone else to take his place at the organ. This is in addition to the fee you pay to your visiting organist.

Other Musical Arrangements

The same procedure applies if some other form of music is to be used at a wedding ceremony, such as a music group, harp or pre-recorded music (i.e. no organ required). The basic wedding fee of £110 is still payable to the Resident Organist, unless there is no music at all, in which case no Resident Organist's fee is payable.

In both the above cases when the Resident Organist is not performing personally, he will not be paid the performers' rights supplement of £63.
